

processwork
HUB

3 - 4 November 2018

“I CANNOT GIVE WHAT I DO NOT HAVE”
WHO TAKES CARE OF THE CARETAKERS?

Alexandra Vassiliou, Ph.D., Vera Lardi

A training seminar for professionals working in NGOs and international organizations that provide support for refugees and migrants.

3 - 4 November 2018

“I CANNOT GIVE WHAT I DO NOT HAVE” WHO TAKES CARE OF THE CARETAKERS?

Alexandra Vassiliou, Ph.D., Vera Lardi

A training seminar for professionals working in NGOs and international organizations that provide support for refugees and migrants. These work environments are demanding and often are connected with workers' burnout. How can a team be more productive and minimize burnout of its members? How are the dynamics appearing in the group experiences and interactions connected to the dynamics of the wider social and political field in which it operates?

In this seminar we will explore the connection of the above to professionals' burnout as well as ways to address and prevent it. The training includes experiential exercises, theoretical presentations, small group work as well as discussion in the large group

Location: 17 Giannarou St., Alimos  first stop Kalamaki  Pikrodafni

Times: Saturday 10.00 - 17:00, Sunday 10.00 - 14:00

Tuition: 140 € (there is a possibility for a limited number of scholarships)

Registration: To register send an email to processworkhub@gmail.com

Alexandra Vassiliou and Vera Lardi have worked with refugees and migrants as well as with professionals offering services to refugees and migrants, educators and volunteers. They have collaborated with NGOs and international organizations providing staff training and supervision, as well as with teachers and university students. They have also participated in community theater projects regarding the refugee crisis.

Organizations they have worked with include: Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF), SOS Children's' Villages, “Arsis” – Association for the Social Support of Youth, Greek Council for Refugees, Center for Research on Women's Issues “Diotima”, Secours Islamique France, Network for Children's' Rights, Hellenic Theater/Drama Education Network, National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, Cyprus Pedagogical Institute.

